

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Dr. Paul Goepfert for leaping into action with a biorepository of #COVID specimens and #remdesivir trial. We applaud your devotion to investigation and hope these projects lead us to important discoveries soon!

Paul Goepfert, MD
Professor, Infectious Diseases

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Dr. Eric Wallace and every single caregiver who has sailed into uncharted eMedicine territory to digitally care for our patients. You are making a huge difference. Keep up the amazing work!

Eric Wallace, MD
Associate Professor, Nephrology

#VirtualHighFives

These brave and skilled docs are at the front lines of the COVID-19 Pandemic. We are so grateful for the courageous work you are doing in the MICU!

L to R: Drs. Marty Solomon (faculty) and Bruno Pereira (3rd year fellow)

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Dr. Jeanne Marrazzo for her tremendous work as UAB's primary #COVID spokesperson. Your updates have made sense of a confusing public health crisis, and we are grateful for your expertise!

Jeanne Marrazzo, MD, MPH
Professor and Director, Infectious Diseases

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Jim Johnson for his steady and wise leadership at multiple levels of the organization during the preparation and initial weeks of response to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Jim Johnson, MD

Professor,

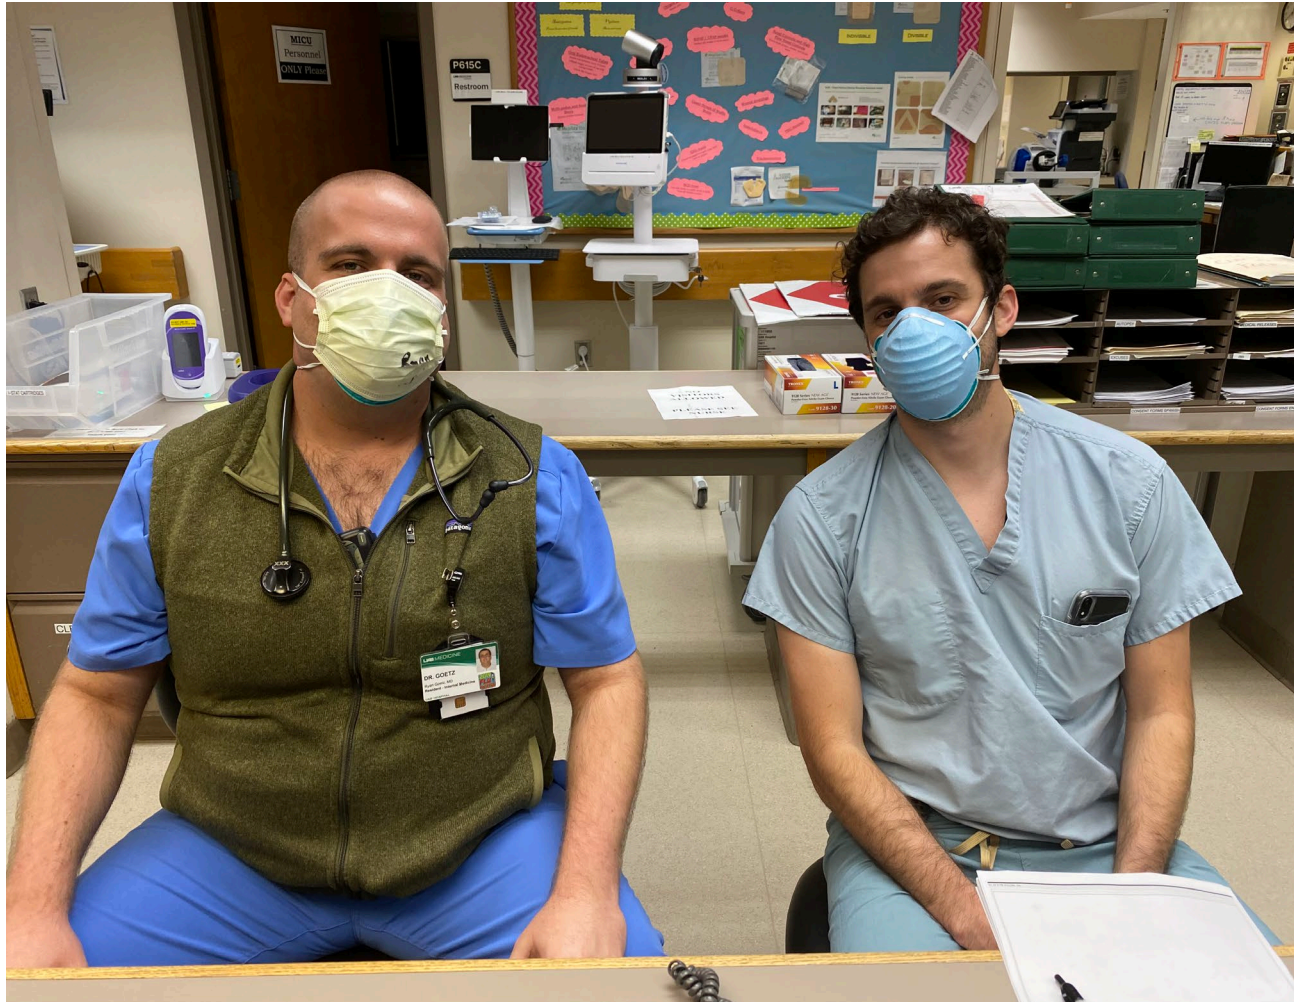

Pulmonary, Allergy, and Critical Care Medicine

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Cindy Joiner for coordinating all our COVID-19 research to minimize risk and maximize our efforts to understand this novel virus.

Cindy Joiner, PhD, MPH, RN
Associate Vice Chair & Assistant Professor, Department of Medicine

#VirtualHighFives

These brave and skilled docs are at the front lines of the COVID-19 Pandemic. We are so grateful for the courageous work you are doing in the MICU!

L to R: Drs. Ryan Goetz (PGY1 Resident) and Dan Scullin (PGY3 Resident)

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Dr. Steve Stigler who has worked tirelessly to make sure our #CriticalCare efforts are smoothly coordinated and highly prepared. Your leadership in our ICU is completely indispensable!

Steve Stigler, MD

Associate Professor,
Pulmonary, Allergy, and Critical Care Medicine
Director, MICU

#VirtualHighFives

We are grateful for
Drs. Sarah Nafziger
& Rachael Lee for their perseverance in the sea of changing guidance on infection prevention protocols!

Sarah Nafziger, MD
Professor, Emergency Medicine;
Chair of Emergency Management
Committee; Physician Advisor, UAB
Center for Patient Flow

Rachael Lee, MD
UAB Healthcare Epidemiologist;
Director, Infection Prevention;
Assistant Professor, Infectious Diseases

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to Arthur McKenzie and all the EVS personnel who keep our patient care areas clean and safe!

L to R: Dr. Seth Landefeld with Mrs. McKenzie who now serves UAB after working 20 years at Cooper Green.

#VirtualHighFives

These brave and skilled docs are at the front lines of the COVID-19 Pandemic.

We are so grateful for the courageous work you are doing in the MICU!

L to R: Drs. Tracy Luckhardt (Fellowship Director), Kay Vijaykumar (2nd year fellow), and Sheetal Gandotra (Assistant Professor)

#VirtualHighFives

Thanks to James Kobie for his work to develop monoclonal antibodies against the novel coronavirus.

James Kobie, PhD

Associate Professor, Infectious Diseases

#VirtualHighFives

Our deepest appreciation goes to our administrative personnel at every level across the department who are remotely deployed and still managing employment issues, grant administration, technology and accounting challenges.